Chapter 2:

The History of Astrology

Synopsis

The knowledge about Astrology had started thousands years ago. The concepts about it came from different cities and countries wherein each of them contributed to the overall perception of people in the present generation.

What Is It

Astrology Defined

Astrology is composed of various divination systems according to the premise about the human world events and astronomical phenomena relationship. Several cultures had integrated astronomical events' essence.

The Chinese, Mayans, and Indians had created the elaborate systems in prediction of terrestrial events coming through celestial observations.

In some of the Western countries, astrology is usually comprised of the horoscope system that explains the aspects of the personality of a person; at the same time, it predicts future events according to the positions of moon, sun and planetary objects during their birth.

The Transition of Astrology

In ancient Babylonia, Astrology has been practiced by priests for deciphering the gods' will. From here, the Greeks adopted it and they rely on the oracles and stars to forecast the events in the future.

The Indian Hindus had explored it from 5000BC to 3000BC. They developed some similar signs that people are now using in the present.

The Egyptians were the ones who used astrology for the first time in foretelling the person's character according to his or her birth date. Way back 4300 BC in Egypt, the star charts were discovered. Chinese developed the astrology system in 2800 BC.

Greeks had influenced the astrology of the Egyptians through what they had learned from Babylonians. On the other hand, Ptolemy had written an astrology book that contains the present practices of using houses, signs and planets.

Astrology had become an essential aspect of various ancient people's culture. Augustus, the Roman ruler (63 BC to 14 AD) created coins that adorn Capricorn, his astrological zodiac sign. Later on, the Persians and Arabs followed the astrology teachings including other sciences such as medicine and mathematics of the Greek. These practices have been shared with Europeans during the 12th century and paved the way for Renaissance. Most Muslim and Persian astronomers had refuted this concern for religious and scientific reasons.

The Decline

Astrology started to decline in its popularity after the fall of Rome. Christians claimed that it has been a devil's work, as Church had grown in power; these people had taken up the astrology practice for personal uses. For instance, St. Thomas Aquinas believed that planets are controlling all things. During the Renaissance period, astrology became favorable again. The seventeenth century became the Age of Enlightenment wherein it started to hold scientific accomplishments. For the very first time, astrology turned into 2 distinct disciplines.

The Revival

It remained in a background until the interest has been revived during the early 20th century. In 1930S, US came up with a famous astrology program that aired on a radio. It eventually made a spark interest among the people. At present, it is no surprise knowing that the international leader consults the stars. Some remain to refuse believing in the predictions while many take this so seriously.

Chapter 3:

Zodiac Signs Basics

Synopsis

For other people, astrology is only a language used for describing the energies of the universe. While for some, this is the planet observation as well as the energy patterns created at a given moment. Early cultures had closely followed these movements and observed the annual journey of the Sun through Zodiac. Then, they had seen that some individuals who were conceived under the signs of the Sun had the same traits.

How Does It Work?

Astrology has been working with Constellation Energy in the outer space. The light coming from the constellation (Astrology sign) is flying towards the outer space. Chapter 7:

Tools Used in Astrology

Synopsis

There are various tools that are typically used in astrology. Some of these tools that are widely used today are the astrology systems and the tarot system. If you will observe the psychics while doing their job, you will see that most of them are using tarot cards and a crystal ball. Both of these tools became popular with these people for such a long time. Hence, it is not surprising to see these things when you visit a psychic.

The Tools

The crystal ball's image suffered from travesty for years. On the other hand, most astrologers use it as they have found that it is a very helpful tool. Throughout the previous decade, it has been recognized that a crystal ball is a serious and an effective tool to use in astrology.

Tarot cards are also used by most astrologers nowadays. These are also recognized as among the popular choice for most fortune tellers. There are various designs and styles to choose from. Most astrologers use them and they will settle on a particular design into which they feel comfortable. This way, they will be able to learn the proper way of interpreting the images & patterns in the most effective way.

Crystals are classified as one of other tools that can be helpful in astrology. Psychics will channel the spiritual world over the cleanliness of these gems.

Also, you will find some astrologers who are engaged in using tea leaves which are among the popular tools to be used in channeling the psychic energy. Once again, the image of it has been damaged slightly by mockery through the years. These leaves work by the psychic who reads their pattern.

There are some who use other items that have the same effect with the previously mentioned tools. You may see that some psychics will use stones and runes that they toss on a surface. They will guess the meaning from determining the way that they fell as well as their connection between each other.

Some of the tools used in astrology tend to be more unusual & personal to a particular astrologer. It can be something that he or she owns for quite a long period of time which will let him or her to concentrate and channel the psychic capability that he or she has.

Everything comes with a possibility and power to be employed by an astrologer to gain concentration and make a connection going to the spiritual world. There are times that a fortune teller makes use of some items that has a sentimental value coming from his or her customers. These items will help him see and learn what could happen to you on the next years to come in your life.

The most valuable of all the tools that is used in astrology is the knowledge as well as the skills that an astrologer possesses. These tools such as the crystal ball and tarot cards will be useless if the person who uses them don't have the innate power. They only serve as the most efficient way to help an astrologer in concentrating to gain precise results.

Chapter 8:

Chapter 9:

Variations Per Region

Synopsis

Since it has been developed, Astrology continued to decline and to revive with its new ideas and concepts. As time passes by, there were already many interpretations existed regarding the aspects of life which has something to do with astrology. They came from different regions that have been greatly influenced and totally embraced it. Every zodiac system is unique in its characteristics which have been taken from the ancient civilizations.

Variations

Indonesian Astrology

It has been developed during the Indonesian ancient civilization and it is still popular in the present generation. Javanese horoscope has been distinguished through superimposing of Western 7day weekly cycle and Indonesian five-day Pasaran.

African Astrology

The African astrology origin may get traced back into the ancient African civilization development. Its astrology has been based on “Geomancy” which is the divination form, having figures composed of bones thrown randomly. As a result, arrows and lines are formed.

Arabic Astrology

This is a great astrological form that indicates about the Arabic characteristics according to the birth date. Arabic astrology gives insightful hints regarding the demerits and merits of various signs. This is also called as the Persian Astrology, which belongs to the oldest astrological forms.

Tibetan Astrology

Astrology has been regarded as a part of the 5 traditional sciences in Tibet. The Tibetan Astrology had been originated around one thousand years ago. It had its roots in other traditions such as Chinese, Indian, and local Bon religions.

Burmese Astrology

Astrology plays a crucial role in Burmese people's lives. This serves as the person's birth sign basis that they knew his behavioral pattern and personality. The 8 zodiac signs of Burmese have their cardinal points: south west, south east, north east, west, northwest, north, east and south.

Native American Astrology

Native Americans believed in astrology for many centuries. They developed the earth astrology system. Their year has been divided into 12 zodiac signs with each named after an animal.

Australian Astrology

Australian Astrology has been an interactive tool that reveals about the animal characteristics of Australians according to their birth date. It gives insightful hints regarding the demerits and merits of such signs.

Arabic Lunar Mansions

This system is a part of the very famous mystic practices. An interesting thing about this reading is its unique approach in interpretation of luminary, asteroid, and planet positions.

These are just some of the regions that provide different astrological system and interpretations. There are more astrological concepts existing and it will be very interesting to learn about them.

Conclusion

What the Critics and Proponents Have to Say to know more of their personalities and at the same time, they learn how to value and appreciate their life. There are more concepts and facts that should people should delve into to fully understand how astrology really works. On the other hand, the critics and proponents had expressed their own understanding and perception of astrology. In fact, the skeptics considered astrology as pseudoscience.

Theory

Scientists believed that the underlying astrological theory has insufficient evidential support and is impossible. There is no force that may cause the celestial things to affect the life of human just what the astrologers claimed. Such force cannot work in a way that astrology is describing. This is due to the reason that astrology has been based on false understanding of the celestial bodies' positions and sizes.

In astrology, the celestial bodies' influence is less or more evenly spread among the very obvious heavenly objects that are visible in the naked eyes. When an object appeared brighter or it moved in the interesting fashion, this tends to catch more significance. People had learned that such objects perceived as nearer, bigger, more active or brighter are not actually necessary in some aspects of life.

Evidence

The astrologists claimed that astrology really works even if the scientists said that it cannot. The argument is focused on the scientific knowledge that is incomplete. Scientists do not understand why or how astrology works.

In the way that astrology has been scientific, it comes with well defined and reasonable framework that can predict consistent, testable and clear outcomes. For instance, the astrology predicted that individuals who have been born at such times and under such conditions will be sharing the same personality traits. But when the studies of the traits had been conducted, there is no correlation found. In terms of date, researches continued to state the personality traits that are randomly spread in the star signs.

One more astrological theory prediction is about the accomplished astrologer who should match persons with the birth charts. In order to test it, astrologers have been presented with series of random birth charts and test subjects. They were then asked to compare the subject into the chart. To date, there have been studies demonstrated the ability of doing this thing better compared to the random chance.

The test made for astrology as the scientific hypothesis may provide different impact among different people. The practicing astrologers need to get prepared in accepting this evidence. However, they are going to continue to explain with justification. Astrology has been into many attacks from various critics and several concepts about it remained as a theory.

Some subsequent astrologers had modified, extended, and refined the doctrine of other scientists and critics. They even came up with guidelines regarding the proper way of interpreting celestial influences on some concerns, like marriages. Even religious reformers had also expressed how they view astrology in their personal perceptions.

Whatever people know about astrology, it is always important to have a good control of their beliefs towards this concept. It does not necessarily mean that they have to totally believe or disagree to the information enclosed in it. Since astrology is focused on personality and development of life, it can be useful in some ways. This may serve as the people's guide in their daily encounters towards relationship, work, personal development, health, behavior and more.

Interested people in studying the art of astrology and mysterious concepts about it should continue to look for factual answers and details. They should understand and delve deeper into reliable sources and people. In the meantime, the basic knowledge about astrology will add color to the lives of the people.
